

WCU students and staff on a Latin American and Latinx Studies study-abroad trip to Teotihuacan, Mexico.

About the Program

An interdisciplinary minor giving students a foundation across two or more disciplines in the study of the peoples of Latin America and those of Latinx heritage in the U.S., preparing students for immersion in a global community and building cultural competence.

Program Highlights

- Customize your 18-credit program across two or more disciplines.
- Compatible with any major.
- Use culture-cluster, general-education, or study-abroad credit.
- Apply up to 6 Spanish Language (SPA) credits toward the minor.
