

Eighth Annual Latino Communities Conference

Keynote Address:

“Supporting Latino/as in S.T.E.M (Sciences, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics)”

Dr. Aaron Dominguez Physicist Catholic University, Washington D.C.

Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at Catholic University and Professor of Physics in experimental high energy physics, Dr. Dominguez has been awarded a National Science Foundation (NSF) CAREER grant and a recent cooperative agreement with the NSF for $11.5 million to lead a team that includes researchers from ten universities in the construction of the next generation of particle detectors at the Large Hadron Collider operated by the CERN Laboratory in Geneva, Switzerland.

Dr. Dominguez is also committed to increasing representation of Latinos in the sciences. Dr. Dominguez created mentoring programs that for English language learners and Latino children in elementary schools in Lincoln, Nebraska and the Chicago area.

9:30 am, Thursday, September 15th
Sykes Student Union Ballroom C

(There will be a meet and greet during the Conference Break at 3:15-4:15 in Ballroom C)

Sponsor by Ethnic Studies Institute, College of Sciences and Mathematics, College of Education and Social Work

Program available at: www.wcupa.edu/latinoconference