

Communication Sciences & Disorders Centennial Celebration 2023

The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders at West Chester University is proud to celebrate 100 years of outstanding education, scholarship, and clinical services. This milestone anniversary is an opportunity for the program's alumni, former and current faculty, supporters, and community partners to gather together and connect during a year-long celebration!

---

Funds raised during the year-long celebrations will directly impact the students, faculty, and staff of the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders and the Speech and Hearing Clinic. Monies donated will help address a variety of needs from scholarship support for students to their technology needs, clinic services and more. Your support is a direct investment in the students of today and the next 100 years.
